

What would it take to colour Australia teal?

Reinventing organisations in Australia

Have you been inspired by the Frederic Laloux book 'Reinventing Organisations'? Would you like to meet others also inspired to bring teal concepts into an Australian context?

You are warmly invited to be part of a conversation around the exciting question 'what would it take to colour Australia teal?'

The conversation will be held in Brisbane, hosted using participatory process and is free to attend. We hope it will be the first of many such conversations as we discover each other, our work, and any collective work which might emerge. The outcomes will be fed into the global online learning platform as a collective Australian contribution.

If you are elsewhere in Australia or the region and can't be there in person, we will gladly keep you informed of the outcomes of the conversation - please just email us with an expression of your interest.

Our consulting partnership, Purpose Partners, is run on teal and participatory principles. We discover more every day about what's possible when we embrace the concept of working together in this way. We see hosting these conversations as a way for us to contribute to the global conversation which is giving us so much. We hope you will join us.

Register here or phone Jane 0403 769 863 for information

Tuesday 13 October

5.30pm-8.30pm

New Farm Neighbourhood Centre

967 Brunswick Street, New Farm

- Reinventing Organisations website
- Knowledge Wiki
- Teal newsletter